Other Teaching Awards

Individual colleges also recognize teaching excellence. The relevant collegiate unit approves these awards and manages these awards processes.

Recognition

~~Faculty and P&A instructional staff who receive the Morse Alumni Award or the Graduate Professional Award become members of the Academy of Distinguished Teachers. The title "Distinguished University Teaching Professor" is conferred upon all faculty and the title "Distinguished University Teacher" is conferred upon instructional P&A staff. The title may be used in correspondence, on business cards, and wherever else appropriate. The recipients will be recognized by specific notations in appropriate college catalogues and in the University teaching schedule for the duration of the recipient's academic career at the University of Minnesota.~~

~~Each winner will also receive a one-time award stipend.~~

Eligibility

~~Tenured and tenure-track (regular) faculty, term (non-regular) faculty, and P&A instructional staff salaried through the University may be nominated for the teaching awards. Nominees must have held a 66 2/3% time or greater appointment at the University of Minnesota for at least five years, including the current year to be eligible for the awards.~~

~~Previous nominees who did not receive the award may be re-nominated. Individuals may not nominate themselves. No individual may receive the Morse-Alumni award and the Graduate-Professional award in the same year and recipients may only receive one of each of these awards in their University career.~~

~~The number of recipients will depend on the funding available.~~

Reason for Policy

To implement Board of Regents Policy: Awards, Honors, and Recognitions. ~~The award programs reflect the University's strong and enduring commitment to undergraduate, post-baccalaureate, graduate, and professional student education.~~ The recipients of the se academic awards promote a community of intellectual inquiry, serve as significant mentors and role models for students, and develop and promote activities which help students understand the larger context of their intended professions. This policy emphasizes the importance of high quality education and academic accomplishment that benefits students, the community, the state of Minnesota, and the world.
