Policy Statement

Evaluation of teaching provides information (1) to help improve teaching, (2) to be used for faculty tenure decisions and salary and promotion decisions based on merit, and (3) to assist students in course selection. The methods used are:

- Student ratings of teaching
- Peer evaluations

A. General Provisions for Evaluation of Teaching

1. All instructors, regardless of their academic rank or tenure status, will have their teaching performance evaluated.

2. The process for evaluating teaching used in tenure and promotion decisions must follow Board of Regents Policy: Faculty Tenure.

3. Student rating data are used in personnel decisions for faculty and instructional staff whose salary is fully or partially based on teaching, (e.g., merit and salary reviews, promotion, tenure for tenure-track faculty).
   - The results must be shared with the instructor being reviewed.
Only those individuals who are responsible for decisions on reappointment, promotion, tenure, and salary adjustments may have access to information about a specific instructor.

Instructors are allowed to respond to student rating results by adding written comments to their files that are communicated to individuals responsible for personnel decisions.

4. When used for salary, promotion, and tenure decisions, information from student ratings should be used in conjunction with other relevant metrics to assess instructional effectiveness.

5. The academic unit must maintain a record of the instructor’s contributions to teaching, including cumulative summaries of student ratings of the instructor’s courses. Units must protect the materials as private data.

6. To assist students in course selection, students may view Student Rating of Teaching responses that pertain to a course and not to a specific individual. (This provision does not apply to the Crookston campus)

7. Student rating data should be used with other types of information to identify instructors who deserve rewards as well as instructors who may need assistance in improving their classroom effectiveness. When used for salary, promotion, and tenure decisions, these data should be used in conjunction with other relevant metrics.

8. Custom Items
   Colleges and departments may, after consultation with, and approval from, the vice provost for faculty and academic affairs, add custom items to the Student Rating of Teaching form. If custom items are added by a department or college, that unit will make available to instructors a written policy that defines which data from the custom items will be used (1) for improvement of teaching, (2) for personnel decisions, and (3) for improving courses or programs.
   ○ Data used solely for teaching improvement will be provided only to the instructor.
   ○ Data to be used for personnel decisions will be available to individuals charged with reviewing instructor performance.
   ○ Data to be used for course and program improvement will be available to curriculum committees and similar bodies only in aggregated form and will not be identified with individual instructors. In all instances, the data will be provided to the instructor.

B. Student Rating of Teaching Form and Requirements

1. Every course with a University course number will be rated by the use of student rating forms every time it is offered, except that thesis-only credits, directed or independent study, and internships will not be rated using such forms. For courses with one instructor but multiple components (e.g., lab, lecture, recitation), departments have the discretion to evaluate the components separately. For courses with multiple components, each taught by a different instructor, each component should be evaluated separately.

2. The standard student rating form (see Appendix-X) will be used except that:
   1. In courses with more than two instructors, departments and/or colleges that wish to use alternative evaluation procedures must seek written approval from the Senate Committee on Educational Policy (SCEP).
2. Academic units in which student evaluation procedures must meet national accreditation standards may use alternative evaluation procedures with written approval from SCEP.

3. A department that wishes to use an alternative form for a course must receive written approval from SCEP.

3. All students enrolled in a course must be provided the opportunity to complete the student rating form. If online SRTs are being used, all enrolled students will receive system-generated email invitations and reminders. Paper forms must be distributed to all students present on the day that ratings are administered. Students who have withdrawn from the course may not participate in the rating of that course. Enrolled students, regardless of the rating protocol or method used, have the option to:
   1. Opt out of responding to one or more questions on the form; or
   2. Opt out of completing the entire student rating form.

4. Instructors may not be present when the evaluations are completed and collected. Results do not become available until after grades have been posted.

5. The dean or chancellor of each college or campus, in consultation with the faculty, will determine whether and how written comments on student evaluation forms may be used in personnel decisions. In units where all written comments on students' ratings of teaching are sent to the chair and/or to reviewing-bodies and are included in the file, unfairly prejudicial comments will be withheld from the file upon request of the instructor concerned and accordingly will not be part of annual or other reviews. The decision whether particular comments are unfairly prejudicial will be made by the chair, a senior faculty member designated through a process determined by the department, or a standing or ad-hoc committee. This provision is intended to cover offensive, racist, sexist, homophobic, and other personal comments, and is not intended to exclude from the file negative comments directly related to the course.

6. Student rating results will be available to instructors online. For online-administered SRTs, instructor reports will include open-ended comments. For paper-administered SRTs, only the multiple-choice item results are reported online. Comments will be available through the return of the original, completed paper forms to the instructor with any student demographic information removed.

C. Peer Evaluation of Teaching

Peer review should include assessment of the instructor's knowledge of the subject matter, general contributions to departmental teaching efforts, and any other teaching contributions. (see Appendix for best practice guidelines.)

1. Peer review process.
   1. Every academic unit should have a documented process for peer review of every instructor's teaching efforts and contributions to teaching, both for purposes of promotion decisions and for teaching-based salary increases. The academic unit should evaluate instructors in ways appropriate to the discipline, and include consideration of activities outside the classroom such as facilitating student research, advising students, and other activities related to students' educational programs.
2. The peer-review process must include consideration of any additional materials identified by the instructor as relevant to the evaluation. Instructors are encouraged to prepare and regularly update a teaching portfolio that contains materials that will be considered during the evaluation.

2. Faculty peer review.
   1. Faculty peers are responsible for evaluating teaching conducted by tenured and tenure-track faculty as outlined in Board of Regents Policy: Faculty Tenure, Administrative Policy: Faculty Compensation, and Administrative Procedure: Reviewing Candidates for Tenure and/or Promotion: Tenure-Track and Tenured Faculty.
   2. Both faculty and instructional staff may participate in the evaluation of instructors who are not tenure-track or tenured faculty.

Exclusions

This policy is not applicable to the Duluth campus.

Course-related SRT results from the Crookston campus will not be released to students.

Reason for Policy

This policy establishes standards and processes for evaluating teaching: peer review and student rating of teaching for the campuses of Morris, Rochester, and the Twin Cities.

It is essential to ensuring quality of instruction and providing feedback to instructors and supervisors.

Procedures

- Using Paper and Online Forms to Conduct Student Ratings

Forms/Instructions
Original forms (not photocopies) are required for processing. Please see your department contact or the Office of Measurement Services for forms.

Appendices

Frequently Asked Questions

1. Are there costs associated with administering custom items on a form?
   Units should consult the Office of Measurement Services to inquire about costs associated with administering a custom form or adding custom items on the Student Rating of Teaching form.

2. Can instructors administer additional evaluation items?
   Instructors are encouraged to conduct early- and mid-semester course assessments for the purpose of receiving feedback about student learning during the term. Instructors may ask students to answer supplemental questions in the open-ended section of the standard rating form, on a separate sheet, or online. See Early Term Feedback on Teaching for more information about early- and mid-semester course assessments.

Appendix to Policy

Units are encouraged to review the following materials when conducting a peer review.

- a cumulative listing of courses taught by the instructor
- the syllabus for each course
- the course objectives and expected learner
- examples of exams, assignments and handouts prepared by the instructor
- newly developed courses or innovative instructional materials, authorship of texts or laboratory manuals, or publications on discipline-specific teaching techniques
- student performance on certification exams (if appropriate to the discipline)
- a listing of undergraduate and graduate students undertaking independent study under the supervision of the instructor
- a survey of the extent of mentoring and participation in other activities related to instruction
- direct assessment of an instructor's classroom performance
- dissertations and theses supervised by the instructor
- teaching awards received by the instructor
- other activities that pertain to the teaching mission of the unit (e.g. participation in teaching-related committee work or curriculum development, publication of textbooks or study guides, participation in educational development programs, conferences, and workshops, etc.)
- the instructor's articulation of the instructor's teaching philosophy, and accomplishments
